

Putin, US envoy hold ‘useful’ Ukraine talks

Agencies
MOSCOW

US envoy Steve Witkoff held “useful and constructive” talks with Russian President Vladimir Putin on Wednesday, a Kremlin aide said, two days before the expiry of a deadline set by President Donald Trump for Russia to agree to peace in Ukraine or face new sanctions.

Witkoff met Putin for around three hours on a last-minute mission to seek a breakthrough in the 3.5-year war that began with Russia’s full-scale invasion of Ukraine.

Kremlin foreign policy aide Yuri Ushakov said the two sides had exchanged “signals” on the Ukraine issue and discussed the possibility of developing strategic cooperation between Moscow and Washington, but declined to give more details until Witkoff had reported back to Trump.

Russian investment envoy Kirill Dmitriev, who earlier greeted Witkoff on arrival and strolled with him in a park near the Kremlin, posted on social media: “Dialogue will prevail.”

‘Pak mercenaries fighting for Russia’

Kyiv: Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy has said that “mercenaries” from China and Pakistan, along with a few other nations, are fighting alongside Russian forces in the ongoing conflict. Zelenskyy’s statement came after he met Ukrainian soldiers fighting in the Vovchansk direction. He stated that soldiers in this sector have mentioned the participation of “mercenaries” from China, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Pakistan, and African countries in the war and vowed to respond to them.

comment from the US or Ukraine following the talks.

In images shared by Russian outlets, the two men — who have met several times before — were seen smiling and shaking hands in a gilded hall.

The US president has said

Russia could face hefty sanctions or see secondary sanctions imposed against all those who trade with it if it doesn’t take steps to end the “horrible war” with Ukraine.

Charity probe ends, Harry criticised

London: British regulators criticised both sides in a dispute over the future of a charity founded by Princes Harry and Seesoio of Lesotho, for allowing the issue to be played out in public and damaging the organisation’s reputation.

The Charity Commission for England and Wales said it found no evidence of widespread bullying or misogyny at Sentebale, which provides support for young people living with HIV in Botswana and Lesotho. It opened a review of Sentebale’s governance in April after the princes stepped down as patrons and a group of trustees, saying the relationship between the board and its chair, Sophie Chankauka, was beyond repair. Chankauka accused Harry of orchestrating a campaign of bullying and harassment to try to force her out. -AP

US cancels $500m mRNA vax projects

Agencies
WASHINGTON

The US Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) will cancel $500m in funding for mRNA vaccines being developed to counter viruses that cause diseases such as the flu and Covid-19.

That will impact 22 projects being led by major pharmaceutical companies, including Pfizer and Moderna.

Health Secretary Robert F Kennedy Jr, a vaccine sceptic, announced he was pulling the funding over claims that “mRNA technology poses more risks than benefits for these respiratory viruses”.

Kennedy’s decision to terminate the projects is the latest in a string of decisions that have put the longtime vaccine critic’s doubts about shots into full effect at the nation’s health department.

“To replace the troubled mRNA programmes, we’re prioritising the development of safer, broader vaccine strategies, like whole-virus vaccines and novel platforms that don’t collapse when viruses mutate,” Kennedy said in a video.

But infectious disease experts say the mRNA technology used in vaccines is safe, and they credit its development during the first Trump administration with slowing the 2020 coronavirus pandemic. Future pandemics, they warned, will be harder to stop without the help of mRNA.

Bird-hit plane’s nose and engine damaged

Agencies
MADRID

A Paris-bound Iberia flight was forced to make an emergency landing after returning to Madrid Barajas Airport following a bird hit it, damaging its nose and engine on Sunday. No injury was reported.

Chaos unfolded as smoke filled the Airbus A321’s cabin, prompting flyers to don oxygen masks and cling to each other in fear. The flight, Iberia’s newest and fourth A321XLR, had been delivered over a month ago.

Iberia told AeroTime, an aviation news outlet, flight IB579 struck “a large bird on the front section of the aircraft and one of its engines” shortly after departure. The impact was so strong that the aircraft’s nose cone was shattered triggered smoke in the cabin. Videos captured the tense moments of the smoke-filled cabin, with the sound of a crying baby and panicked people gripping oxygen masks.

Nasa to put N-reactor on Moon by ’30: US report

US space agency Nasa will fast-track plans to build a nuclear reactor on the Moon by 2030, according to US media. It is part of US ambitions to build a permanent base for humans to live on the lunar surface.

According to Politico, the acting head of Nasa referred to similar plans by China and Russia and said those two nations “could potentially declare a keep-out zone” on the Moon.

But questions remain about how realistic the goal and timeframe are, given recent and steep Nasa budget cuts, and some scientists are concerned that the plans are driven by geopolitical goals.

Nations including the US, China, Russia, India and Japan are rushing to explore the Moon’s surface, with some planning permanent human settlements. “To properly advance this critical technology to be able to support a future lunar economy, high power energy generation on Mars, and to strengthen our national security in space, it is imperative the agency move quickly,” US transport secretary Sean Duffy, who was appointed temporary head of Nasa by President Donald Trump, wrote to Nasa, according to the New York Times.

Duffy called for proposals from commercial companies to build a reactor that could generate at least 100 kilowatts of power. This is relatively small. A typical on-shore wind turbine generates 2-3 MW.

The idea of building a nuclear reactor as a power source on the Moon is not new.

In 2022 Nasa issued three $5m contracts to companies to design a reactor.

And in May this year, China and Russia announced they plan to build an automated nuclear power station on the Moon by 2035. Many scientists agree it would be the best or perhaps only way to provide continuous power on the lunar surface. One lunar day is equivalent to four weeks on Earth, made up of two weeks of continual sunshine and two weeks of darkness. That makes relying on solar power very challenging.
